

Class of '60 meets in Vale

Fifty members of the 1960 Vale High School graduating class returned to Vale over Father's Day weekend for their 50-year class reunion.

The class assembled last Friday evening to meet and greet each other as well as members of the community who attended.

On Saturday evening, a barbecue dinner was served to 93 of the classmates, spouses and guests.

One highlight of the weekend was a Vale Mural tour led by Beth Wolf. Transportation for the group was provided by Brent Hasler, a member of the graduating class. A group also enjoyed a visit at the Vale museum.

Following the dinner Saturday, the group was entertained with jokes, stories and music provided by members of the class. On Sunday, the group met at the park for a farewell picnic.
